For four days in Vilnius, our photographer was there to capture every memorable moment of this year's Annual Conference. Here are the highlights!

This October, more than 600 LGBTI activists, organisers, and allies from across Europe and Central Asia gathered in Vilnius for ILGA-Europe's Annual Conference.

From the first connecting spaces to the closing dinner, the week was filled with energy, reflection, and care. We looked at how our movements can face forward together, with courage, clarity, and solidarity in uncertain times.

There were deep conversations about democracy, funding, visibility, wellbeing, and everything in between. And there were moments that reminded us why we do this work: spontaneous hugs, late-night karaoke, laughter between sessions, and the simple joy of being in a space that feels like community.

Our heartfelt thanks go to our hosts, TYA and LGL, who made Vilnius feel like home, and to Augustas Didžgalvis, who captured the spirit of it all.

Here's a glimpse of what those four days looked and felt like.
