FREEDOM OF ASSOCIATION

The country's first LGBTI organisation, "121," was established as a committee and later formalised as a legal association. Its mission is to raise awareness, advocate for community representation, and provide a support network addressing legal, psychological, and health-related needs of the LGBTI community.

HEALTH

The parliament voted in favour of providing free PrEP treatment to combat the spread of HIV. While the therapy is approved on paper, implementation measures, such as dedicated offices, personnel, funding, drug availability, and informational resources, remain absent. Full availability is anticipated to be delayed until 2025.

INSTITUTIONAL SUPPORT

A new law targeting cyberbullying was adopted, explicitly including protection based on gender and sexual orientation. The law complements a 2024 regulation addressing private violence, with a stronger focus on safeguarding women.
